

U.S. Department of Justice

United States Attorney
Eastern District of California

501 I Street, Suite 10-100
Sacramento, California 95814

916/554-2700
Fax 916/554-2900

For Immediate Release
November 19, 2004

Contact: Mary Wenger, 916-554-2730
www.usdoj.gov/usao/cae/home

TWO MORE VISA BROKERS SENTENCED FOR WIDESPREAD INTERNATIONAL BRIBES-FOR-VISAS SCHEME

SACRAMENTO, CA - Assistant Attorney General Christopher A. Wray of the Criminal Division and U.S. Attorney McGregor W. Scott of the Eastern District of California announced today that two individuals who served as "visa brokers" received sentences of 15 and 33 months imprisonment, for their participation in a bribery and visa fraud scheme involving the unlawful issuance of approximately two hundred visas from the U.S. Embassies in Sri Lanka, Fiji and Vietnam.

Judge Garland E. Burrell, Jr., sentenced NAROMDERKOT SINGH BHULLAR, 40, of Sacramento, to 33 months imprisonment, and RAJWANT S. VIRK, 47, of Herndon, Virginia, to 15 months imprisonment. He also ordered defendant BHULLAR to forfeit $41,101 in assets in connection with the crimes and ordered defendant VIRK to pay a fine of $50,000. Each defendant was also ordered to serve a three year term of supervised release following release from imprisonment. Under federal law, the defendants will be required to serve at least 85% of the prison time imposed.

LONG N. LEE, 52, a now terminated U.S. State Department Foreign Service Officer and career State Department employee, and her husband, ACEY R. JOHNSON, 34, a former Consular Associate, were previously sentenced to 60 and 63 months imprisonment, respectively, for their leading roles in the scheme.

The case is being prosecuted in U.S. District Court in Sacramento by Assistant U.S. Attorneys Benjamin B. Wagner and S. Robert Tice-Raskin and by Trial Attorney Noah D. Bookbinder of the Public Integrity Section, headed by Noel L. Hillman, Chief. It is the product of an extensive investigation conducted by the Diplomatic Security Service of the U.S. Department of State, and by agents with the FBI and several other state and federal agencies associated with the Joint Terrorism Task Force for the Eastern District of California, including the California Bureau of Investigation, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, and the Bureau of Immigration Control and Enforcement of the Department of Homeland Security. Sri Lankan law enforcement authorities also provided assistance in the investigation.

LEE was the Chief Administrative Officer at the U.S. Embassies in Sri Lanka and Fiji from 1997 to 2003, and had previously served as the Consular Officer at the U.S. Embassy in Vietnam between 1995 and 1997. JOHNSON had worked as a Consular Associate in the U.S. Embassies in Sri Lanka and Fiji between 1997 and 2003. The convicted defendants admitted that LEE agreed to arrange for the issuance of U.S. visas in exchange for bribes as early as 1995. Both she and JOHNSON, acting in concert, continued the scheme from 1997 through their arrest in April, 2003.

As part of the scheme, "visa brokers" located in Northern Virginia, the greater Sacramento area, and the greater Los Angeles area, collected bribes from foreign nationals, ordinarily from India or Vietnam, and steered the nationals through the visa application process, including travel to the U.S. Embassies where LEE and JOHNSON were posted. LEE and/or JOHNSON then caused visas to be issued to the nationals and later accepted hundreds of thousands of dollars in bribe payments from the brokers. On instructions from LEE and JOHNSON, the brokers broke bribe payments into transactions under $10,000 to avoid scrutiny by financial institutions and law enforcement, and then forwarded payments to LEE, JOHNSON and their family members. Using the bribe payments, LEE and JOHNSON, among other things, amassed $350,000 in cash (deposited in various bank accounts or secreted in their Oregon home), sent a series of payments to their children, and acquired and/or maintained two separate properties—a seaside home in Port Orford, Oregon, and a home in Bailey, Colorado.

RAJWANT VIRK was one of the Northern Virginia visa brokers; NARINDERJIT BHULLAR was one of the Sacramento visa brokers. Both arranged for numerous foreign nationals, primarily from India, to pay bribes in exchange for visas.

A total of 10 defendants have been convicted in the case. Two other visa broker defendants were previously sentenced: RAMESH K. JAISINGH, 57, of Fairfax, Virginia, to 21 months imprisonment; and PHUONGH HIEN LAM TRINH of Gardena, California, to three years probation. Four other visa broker defendants have pleaded guilty and await sentencing. Defendants VINESH PRASAD, 33, of Sacramento, California, his brother MINESH PRASAD, 30, of Sacramento, California, and RACHHPAL SINGH, 32, of Newark, California, are scheduled to be sentenced December 17, and KIM CHI LAM, 53, of Gardena, California is scheduled to be sentenced January 28th, both before Judge Burrell. An eleventh defendant is a fugitive.

###